Greenbrier Tree Policy: The intent of the developer of Greenbrier was to create and maintain a very wooded looking streetscape. It is the responsibility of each individual property owner to abide by the published tree policy, which states:

"No living tree having a diameter of six (6) inches at a height of twelve (12) inches above the ground may be cut on any lot subject to these restrictions, without the prior written consent of the Board of Directors, except such trees as may be growing in the area upon which the residence is to be built or within ten (10) feet of that area."

- Each tree that is to be considered for removal shall be flagged before an on-site inspection.
- Clear-cutting (removal of all trees in a row or grove) will not be allowed on any lot.
